PREFACE

When the American Imprints Inventory was started in the spring of 1937, two final results were anticipated. The first was to be a file or union catalog of title slips which would represent the holdings of American libraries to the limiting dates for each state in the field of books, pamphlets, and broadsides printed in the United States. The second was to consist of published check lists drawn from this material, covering the publications of the various states and certain cities, within certain periods.

The master file of title slips has been built up until it now contains more than 14,000,000 typed slips, representing possibly 1,000,000 separate titles printed in the period of American printing to 1877 in all states but Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, and the Dakotas. In these states where printing had a later start, the limiting date is 1891. Work is continuing in several states in making additions to this file, has been completed in some states, and has been discontinued in others.

Under the direction of Mr. Douglas C. McMurtrie, Consultant from the beginning of the Inventory until July 15, 1941, the second phase, that of publication of check lists, was chiefly confined to the editing and issuance of them in the more complex Style A form in the central filing office in Chicago where the editorial staff is located. The Style A lists, requiring title page line endings and printers' devices and bibliographical notes, require an almost endless amount of research, both in the libraries where the books are located and in the huge file which complements them in the central office.

It had become apparent, on the basis of possible publication of Style A lists by either the central office or the various states, that if the more than a million titles so far harvested from American libraries were to be made available to the public, some swifter method of issuing the check lists would need to be found. Two solutions seemed possible: That of abandoning the complex Style A lists and issuing simple Style B lists which would provide the user with all pertinent information on the title of the book, its location, author, printer and date of publication, or the return of the title slips to the states themselves for issuance of Style A lists of their own titles. The former solution would have speeded up publication to a considerable extent in the central filing office. The latter would have provided twenty or thirty Style A lists at the end of a year, some of which might have been of questionable quality because of the limitations involved in personnel and sources for necessary research.

A study of the problem has convinced the central office of the Historical Records Survey Project in Washington that the answer may lie in combining the two solutions, that is, the issuance by the various states of their own titles in simplified Style B check lists which can at a later time be refined by the states or by interested scholars. To this end, a manual of editing has been written and furnished the various states. In more than twenty states the staffs have given assurance that such simplified editing is possible and have requested that their material be sent from the central files.

Massachusetts, however, was one of the states which was originally intended to edit and publish its own list. Consequently, material from the central files had been received and a great deal of the editing of it had already been accomplished at the time that the above outlined policy was finally put into effect. For this reason, the Massachusetts check lists will contain many entries written in detailed Style A form. All entries have been edited with painstaking care by competent people.

It was decided that, as the exhaustive work of Charles Evans called "American Bibliography" ends with the year 1800 and as there is no such work at all for the period from 1800-1820, the most valuable contribution of the American Imprints Inventory would be to supply a check list to fill this gap. Therefore, this volume, although it is the first publication of the American Imprints Inventory in Massachusetts, list the product of the press of the state during the year 1801, and leaves for later publication the wealth of material discovered as having been printed in Massachusetts from 1639 through 1800.

It is natural that, since the first work to be printed in the United States came from the press of Stephen Daye in Cambridge, Massachusetts, a great deal of material bearing a Massachusetts imprint has been found. For purposes of publication it has been found feasible to divide the entries printed between 1801 and 1810 into several volumes. Since imprints for 1801, only, are contained in the first volume, its arrangement is simple. All titles are listed alphabetically by author or other main heading. Undated imprints ascribed to 1801 but not definitely proved to have been printed in that year are listed in the appendix. There is a separate list in the appendix of titles derived from advertisements in local, contemporary newspapers.

This check list contains 394 entries which are divided into the following classifications: numbers 1-314 constitute the main body of dated imprints; numbers 315-324 are undated; numbers 325-394 are titles derived from newspaper advertisements. It should be explained here that the titles in this last section have not thus far been located in any depository, but the fact of their having been advertised for sale is an indication of their possible existence.

This volume lists titles reported by 438 depositories, including the British Museum and eleven private collections. Of this total, 135 depositories are located in Massachusetts. Each library is identified by a symbol assigned to it by the Library of Congress. The "Key to Symbols for Libraries" gives the full name and address of each library represented by a symbol, and also the number of titles reported as single copies from one depository only. There is a total of 106 such copies which, until any duplicates are reported, may be considered unique.

To acknowledge all the assistance rendered by everyone concerned in the compilation of a bibliography of the nature and extent of this one is almost impossible. This project has always been fortunate in having the unfailing cooperation and appreciative interest of George F. Burrows, State Supervisor of Clerical Services Program of the Massachusetts Works Progress Administration program. We are grateful to Dennis A. Dooley, Librarian, Massachusetts State Library, for his sponsorship during the entire life of the American Imprints Inventory, and for his ever present cooperation in all matters pertaining to it. Credit for the organization of the Massachusetts American Imprints Inventory in December 1937, and its expansion to its present state wide operation goes to Annis K. Kirkpatrick, State Supervisor, for over two years, and now librarian at United States Naval Air Station in Quonset Point, Rhode Island. Marion Watson was State Supervisor from April 1940 to June 1941, and is responsible for continuing the successful operation of the project during this period. The majority of the editing of all the material in this volume was done by Cora F. Holbrook, who also directed its preparation for publication.

All the public and private libraries represented have made valuable contributions toward the accomplishment of this list, and many of them have been acknowledged in previous publications of the Imprints Inventory. The Massachusetts American Imprints Inventory is particularly indebted to the librarians of this state who have cooperated so fully in making available to us their entire collections and in answering the many additional queries necessary for complete descriptions of the rarer titles. Among those who gave generously of their time and the resources of their libraries and staffs are: Mr. Keyes D. Metcalf, of the Widener Library, Harvard University;

Mr. Clarence S. Brigham, director, and Mr. R. W. G. Vail, librarian, of the American Antiquarian Society at Worcester; Mr. Emerson Greenaway, of the Fitchburg Public Library; Mr. Robert Shaw, of the Worcester Free Public Library; Miss Sarah R. Bartlett, of the Concord Free Public Library; Miss Flora B. Ludington of the Williston Memorial Library, Mt. Holyoke College, at South Hadley; Mr. Hiller C. Wellman of the City Library Association and the Connecticut Valley Memorial Library Association, at Springfield; Dr. Peyton Hurt and Miss Ethel Richmond of the Williams College Library and the Chapin Library of Williams College, at Williamstown; Father Keating of the Boston College Library; Mr. H. D. Carpenter of the New Bedford Free Public Library; Mr. Francis H. Henshaw, of the Berkshire Athenaeum, at Pittsfield; Miss Charlotte Haskins, of the Plymouth Public Library; Miss Penelope Kern, of the Provincetown Public Library; Miss Maydell Murphy of the Taunton Public Library; Rev. Frederick T. Persons of the Congregational Library, at Boston; Mr. Milton Lord, of the Boston Public Library; Mr. Dennis Dooley, of the Massachusetts State Library; Miss E. Lucille Palmer, of the Joseph L. Swett Memorial Library, at Attleboro; Miss Edith M. Ames, of the Bridgewater Public Library; Miss Clara Parker, of the Nantucket Atheneum; Mrs. George Sheldon, of the Pocumtuck Valley Memorial Library, at Deerfield; Mr. Newton McKeon, of the Converse Memorial Library, Amherst College; Mr. Joseph L. Harrison, of the Forbes Library, at Northampton; Miss Harriet S. Tapley, of the Essex Institute, at Salem; Mr. Donald K. Campbell, of the Haverhill Public Library; Mr. Allyn B. Forbes, of the Massachusetts Historical Society, at Boston; Prof. Alfred S. Cole of the Tufts College Library, and Mr. Raymond C. Walkley, of the Tufts College Historical Society, at Medford.

We are also indebted to the many field workers and the office staff of the American Imprints Inventory without whose assistance this list could not have been compiled.

In March, 1942, title to the American Imprints Inventory central files located in Chicago was transferred to the Library of Congress, and the materials moved to the Wisconsin State Historical Society for the duration.

The titles in this list, except those that were originally reported from there, have not been cleared through the Union Catalog of the Library of Congress.

Authentic and interesting narrative. | [Filet] | The story of an old soldier, who has hazarded his life in more than one hun- | dred battles [Dash] the theatre of action a new world [Dash] and that world the prize contend- | ed for [Dash] must excite an uncommon interest in every mind, that regards with attention | the discoveries of adventurous navigators, or "the rise and fall of States and Em- | pires." The discovery and subsequent conquest of the American continent, are the | most important events recorded in modern history, the remote consequences of which | are not within the scope of human calculation. The Republic of the United States is | one link in this vast chain of wonders; and its citizens must read with insatiable curiosi- | ty every authentic account of those early enterprises, which fixed, too fatally for the | native inhabitants, the power of Europeans in this western world. The narrative of | that band of adventurers, who, under the famous Cortes, overturned the vast | Empire of Mexico, has lately been given to the public in English dress, after having | lain almost dormant in the original Spanish for more than two hundred years. The | celebrated Dr. Robertson had recourse to the original of this narrative as an authority, | in forming his History of America; and he speaks of it as containing a minute account | of all Cortes's operations, in the plain style that might be expected from an illiterate | soldier. | [10 lines] | This narrative is, to the inhabitants of this country, a new work, and must be | received as a valuable addition to the history of America; and in that view | of it the subscribers offer with confidence the following | Proposals | for printing by subscription | The | True History | of the | Conquest of Mexico; | By Captain Bernal Diaz del Castillo, | one of the conquerors. | Written in the year 1568. | Translated from the original Spanish, | By Maurice Keatinge, Esq. | [Thick-thin rule] | [12 lines] | [Rule] | Subscribers' names Places of abode Number of copies | [8 lines, handwritten, give subscribers' names, residences, and number of copies for which each subscribes] [n.p., n.d.]
